Press Release

September 1, 2015

The Central Virginia Task Force Against Human Trafficking is hosting a Human Trafficking Conference on Sept 18, 2015 at the City IT Conference Center from 9:00am – 3:00pm. This conference is designed to educate local organizations and service providers on trafficking, specifically sex trafficking, and raise awareness about this growing concern in Central Virginia. The conference is targeted for law enforcement, clergy, service providers, school staff and teachers, counselors, youth workers and non-profits.

Speakers and topics will include:

Erin Kulpa, Assistant United States Attorney – Challenges with current laws and prosecutions

Detective Bill Woolf, Lead Detective of the Fairfax Trafficking Task Force – Human Trafficking and what it looks like in our community.

Tajuan McCarty, Founder of the Well House Inc. – A Victim's perspective

Josh Bailey, Founder of the Gray Haven – Aftercare and Emergency Services

Registration is required to attend. The last day to register is Monday Sept. 14, 2015, and there is a $10.00 registration fee. Seating is limited.

For questions or more information on how to register, call Cindy Kozerow at the Lynchburg Police Department's Crime Prevention Unit at 434-455-6145 or email theremadecampaign@gmail.com
